high pressure in the glass of flaring
gas lamps, building up a concrete wall to keep out the water.

The subway station at Bercy collapsed with a terrific roar early this morning, nearly carrying to ruin a near-by police station to which a number of flood sufferers had sought refuge.

The yellow waters boiled through the chasm and swept all before them.
Forty houses in the vicinity had to be evacuated, storekeepers therein abandoning everything.

The gas mains burst when the station collapsed and darkness added to the terror of the people.

Late dispatches from the provinces bring a ray of hope. These indicate that the situation there has improved and that the floods have at length reached their crest. The affluents of the Seine are even beginning to show a tendency to drop. The Rhone and Saone rivers, however, are still rising.

Reports of villages submerged and people absolutely without food are reaching Paris constantly. St. Laurent is flooded and the people are without drinking water. At Con-flans-Sur-Marne a score of houses have fallen in and many people are homeless. At Sevres the famous government porcelain factory is completely surrounded by the flood.

The snowstorm has ceased and the weather is moderating, but the Seine is still rising, and Paris, like a doomed city, is holding its breath in terror. Half the city was in darkness
all last night.

The army of police, firemen and soldiers give the appearance of a city
fighting for its life.

Every minute brings graver dangers. New areas are being inundated, quays are collapsing, yawning chasms appear in the streets. The water of the Seine has invaded the entire labyrinth of underground Paris.
It threatens ruin and destruction everywhere.

What new disaster will come to the water-logged city before the river begins to fall no one can predict.
Already the damage is officially estimated at $200,000,000 and every hour adds millions more.

The catastrophe promises to exceed the limits of a national disaster and become international.

The death roll also is growing at a frightful rate and when the epidemic which now appears inevitable breaks out it will run into the thousands.

KING GEORGE MAY ABDICATE

Athens, Greece, Jan. 27.—The Grecian cabinet today notified King
George of its decision to resign.
The formation of the new cabinet will be almost impossible, and the king faces many serious problems.
His early abdication is predicted.

WILL MAKE INVESTIGATION

Cleveland, Jan. 27.—The climax of the wide-spread investigation of the high cost of living which originated with the meat tax in Ohio was reached today when County

Prosecutor Cline caused summons to be issued for dealers in every sort of household necessities preparatory to investigating every association of food stuff dealers in Cuyahoga county. The list of summons include butchers, grocers, commission men, cooks and hotel stewards.

The danger to the Louvre is increased by the presence at this point of a big sewer which it is feared

MOST APPALLING SITUATION EUROPE HAS EVER KNOWN

London, Jan. 27.—Partial returns show that fully 200 vessels, mostly small fishing craft, have been lost in the storm of the last 48 hours and that there has been heavy loss of life in the sinking of at least half of these boats. Italy, Spain, Germany and the Scandinavian countries all report tremendous losses in life and property, with a greatly increased death roll feared from the isolation of many towns by high water and snow blockades. The situation is the most appalling that Europe has known in many years.

Naples, Rome and Vienna have suffered greatly. The interior of Spain is practically cut off from outside communication and extent of the damage there cannot be ascertained. Railway traffic in Denmark is interrupted, trains being reported as inaccessible from snow blockades.

The passengers are without food and fuel.

HOT FIGHT OVER MEASURE

Is Promised When Bill Is Re-introduced—Provides Cities and Towns Shall Vote Separately.

Columbus, Jan. 27.—The liquor interests claim to have sixteen votes already pledged in the senate to support the Dean bill, which will be re-introduced by Senator Dean of Sandusky county. It provides that cities and towns shall vote separately from the counties in which they are situated on the local option question. Eighteen votes are needed to pass the measure in the senate and the Senator expresses himself as confident it will pass.

Indications are that there will be a hot fight over the measure in the house. The liquor forces say they expect to have sixty-five votes there but the dry forces are making equally strong claims.

The Beatty committee on investigation of state offices today found itself up against a stone wall in its efforts to discover evidence upon which either criminal or civil action against Mark Slater, former state printer can be based. An admission to this effect came from a member of the committee.

The most that the committee hopes is to show carelessness and extravagance in the state administration of the office. They have gone far enough in their investigation for the attorneys and the committee to see this.
However, employees of the printing department will be required to testify under oath to what they know about the Slater administration.

Organized labor will try again for free text books for children. The new bill will retain the provision that the Boards of education, may at their option, provide for free text books, as is now done in several cities it will provide further for a referendum of the voters where Boards decline to take action. Several uniform text book bills will be introduced before the legislature. Other measures in which labor is interested are employer's liability, eight hour day for women, non partisan judiciary, automatic brakes
for street cars, boiler inspection, home rule for cities, and the initiative and referendum amendment to the constitution.

FIGURES IN THE GOVERNMENT'S PANAMA CANAL LIBEL CASE

EXAMINER HECK STATES CHARGES HAVE BEEN MADE INSPECTOR RECEIVED $700

Mr. Taylor was again called to the further tests of this system were stand Wednesday afternoon and his made.

Five iron test points were sunk in the bar and the water was found to be much better. The test was made by Philip Burgess afterwards the infiltration engineer for the city. Mr. Taylor knew a sample of water was also sent to O. S. E. for analysis.

Dr. Probst said water was full of iron and was not desirable for domestic use or for use in steam boilers.

Asked about some of the work he said at the American Bottle Co. ground was excavated for 1000 linear feet. This was paid for at five cents a linear foot, on account of debris that blocked the way.

Last night Taylor submitted a report for excesses over original contract of the York Construction Co. and it referred to the removal of brick paving in large amount, and he was asked to explain on ravines which cost $20. The B. P. S. had no trouble with the construction company which accepted the board's bid.

The purchase of the Board of Trade's line of the Wehrle factory was negotiated by the Board and the president and secretary of the Board of Health. The caisson was half a foot higher than the water of the river. Now the caissons are about 18 inches higher than at the time the test was made.

The water came from a depth of seven feet. The bottom of the caisson was about 8 feet 3 inches lower than the top of the bar.

Taylor told why the council and B. P. S. favored the infiltration system. Said it would be cheaper to install and would be cleaner to run.

The cost of installing the Harris air pump was $14,000 for the twelve wells.

The fire department is unable to check the flames and hundreds of citizens have turned out to assist. Surrounding towns are sending apparatus on special trains. The city has a population of about 10,000.

The fire started in the largest department store here and totally destroyed it.

REFUTES STORIES OF LENIENCY

Governor Says Guilty
Officials Must Go to Prison

ARE AFTER BODDLERS
And Effort Will be Made to Clear
the State of Graft for Years to Come.

Columbus, Ohio, Jan. 27.—In view of the seemingly inspired statements that no criminal prosecutions are to follow the developments regarding the looting of the state, Governor Harmon felt moved to make some strong and startling contradictions.

No such hesitating or backward policy is contemplated by him.

"The official atmosphere in Ohio must be cleared for 20 years to come" were his vigorous words. "As fast as rascality is uncovered criminal prosecution must follow. If necessary I am prepared to go in person before the grand jury of this county and demand that indictments be returned."

Regarding certain untoward effects that have been produced in financial circles the Governor has no comment: "At the very outset of these investigations I called upon all interested persons, reminding them of their patriotic duty to come forward and assist the Attorney-General and myself to recover the money of the state and to bring to justice those concerned in these nefarious transactions."

"If any dire consequences have resulted I want to remind them that they alone are responsible for the conditions. As for those who profited by these nefarious acts, and unless their punishment will satisfy the ends of justice."

As for the stories that the guilty will ultimately be permitted to escape personal responsibility for their misdeeds, it goes without saying that Attorney General U. G. Denman has neither made them nor approves of them.

The situation is that the state law officer proposes to do one thing at a time. Just now he is deeply immersed in the task of preparing the illicit interest paid upon state funds. This is of itself a stupendous work. When it is done will proceed along other lines which will indicate themselves.

Last evening Governor Harmon had a meeting with Senator Richard A. Beatty of the joint probing committee and went over the matters collected by that body up to date. The committee has no less than 10 expert accounts going over the records of several departments examining and comparing bills and vouchers and it is up-when ventilated will shake the state.

Before the meeting ended the Governor made a formal request that the committee go into the operations of the Ohio Penitentiary and the Columbus state hospital for the insane, in addition to the Department of Workshops and factories, the Fire Marshal's office and the Public Printer's department.

It may be said that this was a meaningless request, nor merely an invitation to enter upon a fishing excursion.

One of the expected outcomes of the investigation is a demand for a revolution in the state's system of auditing and accounting. Practically all of the mischief done can be directly traced to this specific source. Had there been a watchful eye in this department none of these schemes would have existed a moment.

The inquiry into the payment of unjustified traveling expenses and the living of state department officials stationed at the capital had the result of causing another payment into the treasury today.

State Inspector of Workshops and Factories, Thomas P. Kearns, after going over his vouchers separated from them the expenses charged for traveling to his home in Dayton since last July.

The total amount is comparatively insignificant and was paid out for railroad fare. Its repayment simply establishes the principle laid down by Attorney General Denman that the state is not expected to reimburse officials for this form of expense.

In making his return to Auditor of State Fulton, Inspector Kearns sent a check for $43.85 accompanying an official letter in which he stated that he was returning traveling expenses incurred when not on official business, which following an established custom of the department, has been charged by me but to which I am not entitled according to an opinion recently rendered by the Attorney General."

This reference to custom is aimed, as well understood at the ruling of former Auditor of State Gilbert, in the effect that it was permissible on the

"THE TRAVELING SALESMAN"

A CHRISTMAS PLAY.

SOME OF THE BRIGHTEST LINES IN THE CURRENT FAVORITE AND
AND A RUNNING REVIEW.

She declares she will get even with him, and Mrs. Babbitt assures her there isn't a man that stands in size, leather worth any woman's time and before they have settled matters Mr. Drury comes in. Royce appears and introduces the party and Drury unconsciously tells Ruth he would like to have a word with her alone. Mrs. Babbitt takes the hint and disappears. Blake's been up to his old tricks again," Drury begins. "I'm sorry you're the victim this time." Then he gives her to understand that Blake's unscrupulous in his methods, and has always had a great way with women. He offers to help her get the hand away from her and tells her she can't afford to wait six months, as she would then have to pay for her hand and improvements. Ruth raises some objections, but Drury tells her he is willing to even lose on the transaction, as he can't afford to have it known that one of his employees would cheat a woman.

Drury writes out the check for Ruth's endorsement and she is still undecided when the door opens and Blake enters. He is all smiles and greets Royce with: "Well, I beat you to it." Drury tells him he is disgusted with his "dishonesty and deceptions" and Blake answers that it isn't his scrap says he has just turned a neat little trick in real estate—had some inside information, etc. This doesn't make a favorable impression on Ruth, whom Blake has not yet seen. When he discovers her he says he has been wearing out his guitars looking for her. She says she is glad he found her as it saves her looking for him. He is found out, she declares and presently the situation made clear. When he learns that Drury has offered to buy the hand back for her, he asks for time to think and when he has done a little thinking tries to tell her that Drury and Royce are a couple of sharks, that no matter what they offered her she is getting a lemon as they were never in business for their health. He asks if she knew Royce had intended to buy her hand.

Ruth—"Yes, to protect me from you."

Blake—"Royce—you're immensely running to Ruth but you don't believe him!"

—And did you think I'd believe you? Believe the word of a man I never saw until yesterday, against the word of a man who has proven himself my friend?"

Blake tries to convince her that she has a wrong idea and then Drury comes forward and tells so him to do the right thing by the girl. Blake tells him to "just keep cool on it." Royce: "he's going to do the right thing by her." Royce wants to know if he thought he Royce was going to tell Ruth why didn't he tell her so.

—Why didn't you come to me?" Blake—"Love at first sight?" Ruth, "I was hit by a cyclone."

Watts—"If this is the best it does for you, and I see it coming my way,

They discuss the situation. Watts thinks his friend has been given a cold deal, but Blake says the other fellow's arguments were strong. He says he may be getting paid for something he's done some time, but it's an awful price. Julius brings up the sandwich and Watts persuades Blake to eat something—stabs his heart, but feels better over a full sandwich, and orders Julius "to do it again" for him. Julius answers, "Yes, sir." As soon as I serve some more tea to Mrs. Babbitt and her lady friend."

And now from Julius Blake learns that Ruth has been with Mrs. Babbitt about an hour and that the women seem to be having trouble and crying some.

This seems to please Blake, who says the crying spell looks to him as though a "thaw had set in and the ice was beginning to move." Julius says that Royce and his friend are down stairs, and he is taking their cards to Miss Elliott, but Blake gives him a ten dollar note and tells him to forget the cards and go up to the attics and play golf and send Watts downstairs to hold Royce. Then he goes across the hall and knocks on Mrs. Babbitt's door and when that lady shows herself he grabs her and brings her into his room. She wants to know if he is trying to kidnap her, but he answers that he wants to talk to her and talk hard.

Blake—"You'd do anything for Ruth, wouldn't you?"

Mrs. Babbitt—"Yes, but by gosh, I draw the line at being compromised."

Blake tells her he must see Ruth before Royce and Drury get to her and though she protests that she will have nothing to do with him, he finally gets her to listen and asks if she has always thought Royce on the level. "You're not, are you?" Mrs. Babbitt answers.

Then Blake tries to explain how he'd behaved a week in Ruth's interest and asks her how she thinks he got the information if some one hadn't given the shop away. She never thought of that she says, and Blake goes on to explain how Royce had indeed about the poker game and says he only beat Royce in his little game but that he did not buy Ruth's hand but only paid the taxes, and shows the receipt as proof.

Mrs. Babbitt—"Heavens, man, why didn't you tell me?"

Blake—"I didn't have the chance. I didn't dare, didn't you understand? When I dropped to the fact that she had accepted their offer, I couldn't get her to believe that I had only paid their taxes. If they had known she owned the hand they would have given her the check for $2000 then and there, and the deal would have been closed."

When Mrs. Babbitt is won over the best is easy. He asks her to give Ruth the poker, that she might not insist on him and the money. Julius appears and says Royce and Drury have gone. Mrs. Babbitt goes to tell Ruth. When she has heard and is greatly distressed her son comes in. "Why didn't you tell me?" she asks. "Why did you let me say those things to you?"

Blake—"They had you rattled—you didn't know what you were saying. You thought I had robbed you of your hand."

—"Oh no, it wasn't that. I thought you had robbed me of my hand but of my faith in you. How can you forgive me?"

Mrs. Babbitt reminds them that there is plenty of time for that kind of talk and wants to know how Ruth is going to get out of it. She has given her word of honor to Drury. Blake tells her she needn't split hairs about that.

honor in dealing with sharks and to refuse to take the check.

—"But I've accepted it." Mrs. Babbitt—"What?"

—"Yes, Mr. Royce just a few days ago, while Mrs. Babbitt was away, sent the check by the clerks, I saw it and signed a receipt."

Blake—"That's why they left—their hearts beat us."

Mrs. Babbitt declares that is what happens to unprotected females if she had a husband they could have wished for their kind, as no married woman in the state can execute a check without her husband's signature. Blake kisses Mrs. Babbitt's hand. Suddenly it takes her breath away and she leads her to the door. Returning to Ruth, he says, "Well, it's all right."

—"But I don't see."

Blake—"You heard sister Babbitt. As you have to have a husband."

—"But I haven't one."

Blake—"We can fix that. Are you married?"

—"Yes, I am game," she answers, and Blake as he starts to take her in his arms, remembers that time is short and instead goes to the telephone and orders one minister and two witnesses quickly.

THE TRAVELING SALESMAN.

A stage "The Traveling Salesman" comes to the Auditorium Monday evening, Wednesday, Friday and Saturday evenings.

—"The Traveling Salesman" is a comedy which has an enviable reputation for the universal courtesy and accommodation with which it treats its patrons at all times, frequently manifesting this characteristic in an unusual manner.

Only recently an instance where the company spared no expense, time or trouble in finding their patrons at their destination was afforded. On a Saturday of the present month two women and two small children purchased tickets at Cambridge for Somerset, Perry county, and boarded the 10:30 for Newark, where they were to make connection with the Saturday afternoon train leaving for Somerton. Train No. 10, however, was late, and did not arrive here until after the Shawnee train had left the city. The matter was explained to the B. & O. railroad officials, and as the women and children would have to lay over in Newark until Monday, there being no other train leaving before that time, the officials got busy. They ordered out a special train, consisting of an engine, baggage car and coach, and took the party to Somerton. Billy Butterworth was the conductor and Pat Glancy was the engineer.

It is said that even Watts is not far off from the idea that the audience will be surprised to see the result of the success of the piece. The incident concerning this happened on the stage, so that the company assembled for rehearsal, before the opening of the season. Watts was seated near the author, Mr. Fletcher, who had just begun the second act when the actor, Billie, who was dressed as a 16-year-old boy, was a bit startled and bent down to look under the sofa. His eyes met the pale face of a slightly disheveled old man. Not wishing to interrupt the reading he said nothing, but a moment later the latter walked over to Fletcher and rubbed his shoulder. The author saw the old man and, of course the reading of the play stopped for a few moments to discuss how much luck the piece was going to have because of the man's appearance at that special time. The fact that the play has been extraordinarily successful is attributed by many of the company to the sympathy concerning a black and white seal will open at the box office of Saturday, January 26.

DR. STUART'S LECTURE.

Dr. George E. Stuart interested a very good sized audience at the High school auditorium on Wednesday evening when he gave his lecture on "Top-Sized Folks" which comprised one of the numbers on the High school lecture course.

Dr. Stuart is a Southerner and personally together with his son and delightful accent, only tended to increase his charm as a lecturer.

"Top-Sized Folks" gives opportunity for the clever depiction of man in general and his various characteristics.

Dr. Stuart speaks of people as we meet them in life, often disguised by accident.

—He is the author of "Top-Sized Folks" which is a collection of 125 short sketches, each one of which is a complete person, for the time being.

He has taken with them

asked well filled with good things to eat and the result was a splendid supper. The evening was passed in having a good social time. It is not often that Harry is surprised, but he acknowledged that his friends got one on him this time.

—Wednesday night at an early meeting some 40 members of the daughters of Rebekah reported to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas, which the latter had just begun the second act when the actor, Billie, who was dressed as a 16-year-old boy, was a bit startled and bent down to look under the sofa. His eyes met the pale face of a slightly disheveled old man. Not

THE RECEIVERSHIP into which the publishers have just been thrown, necessitates the immediate disposal, at a sacrifice prices of all stock on hand for the benefit of creditors. Take advantage of this opportunity to get the World's Greatest Encyclopedia at very lowest prices.

The indications are that there will be a great game of basketball here on Saturday night when the Denison team is scheduled to meet the fast team of Oberlin University in Cleveland Hall. The game will be called at 8 o'clock.

At the last regular meeting of the Clio-Popular Literary society the necessary preliminaries were held. The judges were Miss McKee and Professors C. Spencer and C. P. C. who decided in favor of Miss Nina Ringer.

After a short visit with relatives and friends in Granville and vicinity, Mr. and Mrs. Harry M. Thomas and their daughter, Miss Georgia, have returned home.

POPULAR RECIPE

This Home-Made Cough Syrup
Stops Coughs Quickly.

Make a plain syrup by taking one pint of granulated sugar and one-half pint of warm water and stir for two minutes. Put two and one-half ounces of pure Pine in a pint bottle and fill it up with the Granulated Sugar Syrup. Take a teaspoonful every one, two or three hours. Keep well corked and it will never spoil.

The effectiveness of this simple home-made article is surprising. It easily stops a deep-seated cough in twenty-four hours. It is also excellent for colds, whooping cough, pains in the chest, bronchitis, trusses and similar ailments.

Use the real Pine in making it,

however. It is the most valuable concentrated compound of Norway White Pine Extract, and it is far superior to the numerous pine oil and pine tar preparations.

If your druggist does not have it, he can get it for you without trouble.

The proportion above suggested makes a full pint of the best cold and cough remedy. The taste is so pleasant that children take it willingly.

The total cost is about 14 cents.

Strained honey can be used instead of the syrup, and makes a very fine

honey and pine tar cough syrup.

GRANVILLE

Granville, Jan. 27.—At Friday night Mr. and Mrs. Harry Thomas, who resides in the southeast corner of the village, were the recipients of a very delightful surprise and one that they will not forget for a long time. Mr. and Mrs. Thomas came to their home to Alexandria, Ind., to return, and their friends have been aware of this to be planned to have a surprise. Wednesday night at an early meeting some 40 members of the daughters of Rebekah reported to the home of Mr. Thomas, which the

EXPEDITE-TERMISSION.
A very quiet wedding took place
near Kirkersville on Saturday, January 22d, when Lenora, the oldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Termission, was united in marriage to Mr. Gleason Enderline, Rev. Mr. Higgins of Hebron

COLLEGE REMINISCENCE

Columbus Dispatch

The talk of making Judge O. B.
Brown of Dayton, the Republican candidate for governor suggests the interesting possibility that the opposing candidates for the chief executive office in the state will both be Denison university men, for the renomination of Governor Harmon is taken for granted. Judge Brown graduated at Princeton but the first two years of his college course were spent at Denison where, like the governor, who preceeded him on or a dozen years, he was "a live wire." In the traditions of Denison "Britt" Brown figures conspicuously and there are many who have followed his career with admiration.

When he was at Granville there was one professor who used to make interminable prayers at the chapel exercises. Blanket requests for blessings would serve his purpose. Noting but specific requests would do and the enumeration of the objects for which he invoked the Divine blessing was often long and tedious, like the "catalogue of the ships" in Homer's Iliad. On one morning when this enumeration was particularly irksome, the "Amen" had no sooner been pronounced than, proceeding from the part of the room where "Britt" sat, there was an exclamation, "He forgot to pray for the navy." The room was at once in an uproar and the exercises came abruptly to an end.

The reminiscence is interesting, and it is also instructive. It goes to show that most persons who do things when they have reached maturity have in their youth a good stock of enthusiasm,
a keen sense of humor, a dislike for artificialities and often a lack of veneration for things which are called the proprieties. The college boy who makes trouble is not always to be condemned, but neither is he to always be excused. He may teach his teachers as good a lesson as he gets from them.

Cards and music were enjoyed during the evening and at a late hour an appetizing repast was served. The affair was a masquerade and the many competent costumes created much merriment when all unmasked and the identity of each one was made known.

The masqueraders were Anna
Prior, fortune teller; Katie Mincer, colored mammy; Bertha Weider, Dutch girl; Rose Valley, country bride; Sue Fullin, Indian squaw; Mamie Bentz,
Slav; Bessie Thomas, old maid; Bessie
Everett, topsy; Mrs. Fullin, spainish

evieve Kennedy, washerwoman; Jack Evans, Yiddisher; Frank Binder,
clown; Donald Hiser, professor.

The guests who were not masked were Mr. and Mrs. John Schimpf and family, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Schimpf, Mr. and Mrs. Rufus Buxton, Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Gorius and family, Miss Mag-Gorius and Miss Agnes Gorius.

On Wednesday evening, January 26,
Mr. and Mrs. Frank Haban of 34 Cedar street, gave a surprise on their daughter Helen. The evening was spent in games and music and at a late hour covers were spread for the serving of an elaborate supper. The hostess received many beautiful gifts.

Those present were Misses Annie
Hayes, Lydia McKee, Luu and Eddie Dovell, Bertha Thompson, Emma Kerr, Alberta Walpole, Bertha Silvers,

AMERICANS ARE RECEIVED MOST CORDIALLY IN JAPAN

Spontaneous Public and Official Reception at Every

With Gifts and Shouts of Welcome--Entertained by Count Okuma.

TOKYO, Jan. 8.—The 650
American tourists who reached Tokyo, the capital of Japan, yesterday received a reception that literally took them off their feet. In all the many countries through which the Clark steamer Cleveland's party has traveled, the reception in Japan, both public and official, has been most spontaneous, most cordial, most sincere. It has been a series of unexpected and delightful surprises from the day the Americans landed in Nagasaki and through their visits to Kobe, Osaka, Yokohama and Tokyo. We were lavishly entertained where we had no right to expect it, and were shown courtesies which were a mass of color.

Gifts of umbrellas, fans, flowers, etc.

beautiful and if they are more or less now in the winter season, they must be delightful in the spring and fall, when they are a mass of color. All of the decorations in Nagasaki, Tokyo and Yokohama were not for tourists, though much of it was to their honor as individuals and place cards, etc. We were shown many

OPPOSING TO WIN?

No sooner was the lid taken off and bills introduced in the legislature proposing a public utilities commission and a single state board of taxation than the cry was raised that the corporations are opposed to both, and most especially to the utilities measure.

It is claimed that the corporations object chiefly to the provisions of the utilities bill that would give the commission power to fix a valuation on public service corporations as going concerns. In this connection it has been said that such a provision strikes straight to the heart of one of the most vital taxation questions in Ohio.

No doubt of it, but in a different way from the belief such a remark is evidently intended to create.

It has been expected ever since the special session of this legislature a year ago that a single board would be substituted for the dozen boards which now fix the valuation of various corporate interests for the purpose of taxation. If there is one thing more than another to which corporations would object it would be the power of such a board or commission to fix their tax values.

For these reasons it is natural to suspect that the proposed utilities commission was brought forward at the suggestion of the president to foil the proposed tax commission. A rumor to the effect that Charles P. Taft and his political partner, George B. Cox, had copies of the utilities bill a week or more before it was introduced gives some plausibility to the suspicion that corporate interests in which brother Charles and George B. are concerned in behalf of themselves and "the interests" generally have found it expedient to move upon the legislature by way of the White House. In no other way can the extraordinary interest of President Taft in a purely state measure like this be accounted for.

Therefore there is reason to suspect that the so-called opposition to the utilities bill and its valuation clause is mere bungomoe to deceive the people into believing that the

DICK IS DOING SHREWD STUNT

Putting It Up to His Party to Make Farce of Primary.

ACTS UNDER BURTON LAW

Has Sufficient Signatures to Demand
Indorsement by Popular Ballot—Republican Threats Afloat to Side-track the Aldorf Bills—Farmers Not Responsible For High Prices of Foodstuffs.

BY ORWELL C. RIDDLE.

Columbus, O., Jan. 27.—Like the flowers that bloom in the spring, tra la, the primary election law of Ohio does not seem to have anything to do with the case when it comes to settling the question of a senatorial indorsement in Republican circles.

Senator Dick and his friends alone seem to have taken the law seriously, for no other aspirant for membership in the Aldrichian order of rule or ruin (also correct if worded, rule and ruin) has seen fit to proceed according to its provisions in the preliminary stages of the race.

Dick's petitions have been in circulation all over the state until it is said, there are sufficient signatures to insure him a place on the senatorial ballot. This puts him in the position of making a fight for an empty honor without a contest, not entirely unlike the famous charge of Don Quixote upon the windmills.

But there is another and a more serious phase to this political comedy. The primary law for years was a hobby of Theodore Burton, now the other and equally unpopular senator from Ohio. Burton was brought to Columbus when the Bronson bill was running a neck-and-neck race with the Huffman bill for the final rollcall. The Huffman bill was badgered by the Republican majority in the house because it was a "Democratic measure." The senate passed Huffman's bill and the house passed Bronson's

Thousands of people rely upon it. Here is one case: Mrs. M. Glore, 402 N. Catherine Street, Mt. Vernon, Ohio, says: "I think kidney complaint in my case was caused by a cold which settled on my kidneys. For a month I was in misery and was so weak and helpless that I could not attend to my housework or even dress without assistance. Certain moves caused a sharp pain in my left kidney, extending into my limbs and it was impossible for me to turn in bed. Being advised to try Doan's Kidney Pills, I had a box procured for me. No remedy could have given greater satisfaction. It only required the contents of one box of Doan's Kidney Pills to drive away my trouble and during the time that has since passed, I have not felt the slightest symptom of a recurrence. MAY BE SO.

"Living too well" is the reason given by James J. Hill for the high cost of living.

He must have been thinking of that banquet of steel manufacturers at Pittsburgh with its "human goldfish" and 100 plates at $100 per plate. Surely his remark cannot apply to the workingman who has been obliged to eliminate meat from his "full dinner pail."

GUGGENHEIMS GET THEIRS

We are told now that the Guggenheims control the country's coal supply. Do you remember how "Sunny Jim" Sherman said in a speech at Columbus during the campaign of 1904, that this country would experience the most marvelous prosperity in history if he and Taft were elected? Well, the Guggenheims are only claiming their share.

"Sunny Jim" didn't mean the men who have since eliminated meat from their full dinner pail.

HIGHWATER

Mrs. Mary Anne Johnson had the misfortune to get a bad fall last week, one of her hips being fractured, besides other injuries. She is resting as well as could be expected at this time, and it is hoped by her many friends that she will soon be able to be out again.

Mrs. Abby Smith spent Tuesday with her daughter, Mrs. Elmer Stiles of Homer.

Mr. Samuel Johnson and family of Jefferson visited his mother here on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Bert Lowe and children were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Lorenz Gossel Simons.

Mr. and Mrs. Lon Wexup and their daughter spent Thursday with Mr. and Mrs. Aveline Snyder.

Forest Cramer went to Granville Sunday.

Richard Stauffer spent a few days last week with his mother at Newark.

Mr. and Mrs. C. N. Bell and son, Elmer, and Louise Springer spent Sunday evening with Mr. and Mrs. Foster M. Fadden.

Mr. and Mrs. Morrison Clark attended the dinner of Alfred Pfeiffer given in honor of his son, Carl, last Saturday, the occasion being a birthday anniversary.

The sport that left us plenty of energy in the community, and the transients less amenable, Lawrence Gossel went to Granville Friday and, as to buy a shovel in order to get through the driving snow home. The snow has been compelled to stay to the main course.

SENATOR CHARLES DICK.
Who Is Playing a Solo Game In Pursuit of a Second Term.

bill. Then came the long and bitter struggle for the mastery. Burton was brought into the fight because of his supposed devotion to the doctrine of honest elections and an untrammeled ballot box. Burton very promptly arrayed himself against the Huffman bill and based his political conscience by espousing the Bronson bill.

Now this same Bronson bill, as it was wiser into the fabric of state law with the aid of Mr. Burton, is to be ignored by Mr. Burton and all the other patriots of the g. o. p. to kick Dick out of the senate.

A primary election scheme which Burton helped to fix up was used to eliminate Foraker from the senate. Now a statutory primary which Burton helped to get through is to be ignored to eliminate Dick if it can't be cut to pieces with amendments this session.

For reasons not yet published Burton does not seem to be as loyal to Dick as Jonathan was to David and as Pythias was to Damon.

But Dick has this bunch on the other fellows. It is up to them to persuade the legislature by fair means or foul to emasculate the Bronson primary this session, else with an uncontested indorsement he will force responsibility upon them to prove that Burton's pet Bronson law is a farce if he does not get his toga again without opposition within his party in case the Republicans have a majority in the next legislature.

The several bills introduced in the house this week by Gibson of Jefferson county, Woods of Medina county, Goshall of Knox county and Schenck of Cleveland may be innocent enough in their original form, but any one of them can easily be made a vehicle for amendments that will cause all kinds of merry devilment.

There is a striking difference between the way the probe committees already created go about their investigations.

Senator William R. (R.) chairman of the food probe, announced that all testimony would be taken in open meetings, but felt that the committee could hold closed sessions for preparation, "so that the other people do not know what we have up our sleeve," he said. Of greater significance was his announcement that "We are not going into the立法 at all. That should be made clear at the outset." It is clear enough, the senator being editor of a Republican paper that has faithfully "protected" the "protective tariff." That one of the pointed suggestions made by Governor Harmon in his special message advising an investigation of the causes of high prices has its own significance.

Senator Beatty (D.), chairman of the committee to probe state offices is opposed to holding any more secret sessions. Representative Riddle (R.) of Logan county says there will be more of them because the committee does not want to cast any unjust suspicion or place any state official in an embarrassing position before the public unless it has facts to justify it.

This contrary attitude by a member of the committee stirred up Chairman Beatty to the point where he said emphatically: "There will be no more secret sessions. Everything we do is of interest to the public and they have a right to know what we do. As chairman of the committee I will demand open sessions and if the others vote me down I'll come out and tell the people of Ohio through the newspapers what we did at our meetings. I'm opposed first and last to any secrecy in connection with this probe."

Which sounds very much when read aloud as though this is not going to be a whitewashing probe.

Attorney General Denman recently held in connection with a school board controversy that newspaper reporters were entitled to be present at so-called star-chamber meetings of public bodies. Good for Denman. The star-chamber gets more unpopular as the desire to cover up something increases.

Threats are being made that the Republican majority in house and senate will pull through the Woods utility commission bill and Langdon tax board bill, and ignore the Aldorf bills, which are drawn and ready to be introduced whenever the senate removes the gag, to retaliate upon the Democratic senators for balking the political scheme to print the house bills and flood the state with them this week in advance of the Aldorf bills.

This is amusing. It betrays what the Republican leaders had in mind doing all along anyway.

Senator Aldorf had his bills ready to introduce the first day of the session, Jan. 3, and a synopsis of them was published about that time.

The Republicans were not ready with their bills and, taking advantage of the rule adopted to introduce no general bills before Jan. 24, they tried to shape the Woods and Langdon bills to anticipate the provisions of the Aldorf bills, and then tried to forestall Mr. Aldorf in the introduction of bills. Now they are real vexed at the Democrats for catching onto and exposing their little game, so they are going to go ahead and play peanut politics, as they did throughout the special session last year.

The Summit county farmers institute at Copley made a hot retort to the charge that the farmer is to blame for the big cost of living. For the encouragement and comfort of farmers in other sections of the state, since this is one of the questions being probed by the Ohio legislature, the resolution adopted on that point is quoted here in full:

"Whereas, the prices the farmer receives for his products are governed by the inexorable law of supply and demand and are not any higher, but in many cases lower, than is consistent with a fair return on his labor and investment we, therefore, declare: that the present accusations by ignorant parties that the farmer is unduly raising the prices of articles of food are without foundation and only tend to create a feeling of envy and bitterness between producer, dealer and consumer. Let every man's dollar help make his exchanges in an unrestrained market; about the 'pay as you go' plan of doing business; deal justly with every one; make the daily incomes more than supply the daily outgo and we will gradually return to safe and satisfactory conditions without further investigation."

This special resolution was also adopted after a lively discussion:

"Resolved, That the low price the farmer receives for his produce is entirely out of keeping with the high price which the consumer pays for the same thing."

And here are some of the points made in defense of the farmer during the discussion.

"The farmer does not fix the price of his products. He must pay whatever is offered by the middleman in the city market."

"The middleman has the producer at his mercy, controlling the market and the supply, to suit his policies, by manipulating prices."

"Neither the farmer nor the consumer gets the best of the difference between the price paid the farmer and the price the consumer must pay for his necessities in the market."

Now, you farmers of other counties, go thou and do likewise, and let this legislature know about it—except do not blame the middleman. The trusts are doing that and blaming the farmer, too, which ought to make it plain where the blame actually lies."

GOVERNMENT TO PROSECUTE

Congressional Investigations and What rich Will Put Through His Program.

Washington, Jan. 27.—It is evident that the high prices boycott has "caught on." From a cloud "no larger than a man's hand" it has grown until it overshadows the nation. So far as can be judged, the little movement that started in this city did no more than suggest it to the rest of the country, but that was enough. Public sentiment was ready and needed only the one word to start it in motion. It was like the box of tinder spoken of by Carlyle which was waiting for the spark. Dr. Scharf and his Anti Food Trust League furnished the spark. In the beginning Dr. Scharf was boycotting alone. Now everybody is at it. He started out to enlist 1,000,000 house-holders in his movement. It present progress continues he will soon have 10,000,000—not only so, but the government is starting suit against the beef trust in Chicago. Investigations are buzzing about like flies on a warm spring

The Great Expectation Oil & Gas company sold fourteen 250 barrel tanks of oil from Sunday noon to the following Saturday morning. This is certainly a good well.

The Lancaster Oil & Gas company well which is located within half a mile of the big well drilled by the Avalon company on the John Grove lease, is expected to be in the last of this week.

The Purvis-Turner Oil & Gas company drilled in its well on the Isaac Grove lease about 300 feet from the Great Expectation gusher and shot it, collapsing the casing, which necessitated the pulling and resetting of the casing, which was done Monday, but it was found that the casing still leaked, but the high water prevented their resetting same. This well, however, is showing up for a big one and will no doubt be good for better than 100 barrels when the water is cased off.

Sec. 14. In the other departments of the City of Newark, Ohio, the compensation of Clerks, together with the amount of bond to be given by each, is fixed as follows:

One Librarian, who shall receive the sum of fifty dollars per month, payable monthly, and who shall give bond in the sum of one hundred dollars.

Clerk of Solicitor who shall receive the sum of twenty-five dollars per month, payable monthly, and who shall give bond in the sum of three hundred dollars.

Sec. 15. All bonds shall be prepared by the Solicitor and shall be to the approval of the Mayor, except the bond of the Mayor, which shall be approved by the Council.

Sec. 16. All bonds shall be prepared by the Solicitor and shall be to the approval of the Mayor, except the bond of the Mayor, which shall be approved by the Council.

Sec. 17. This ordinance shall take effect and be in force from and after the earliest period allowed by law.

Passed January 17, 1910.

J. V. ANKELE, President of Council.

Attest: James McCarthy, Clerk.

Approved by the Mayor this 18th day of January, 1910.

WHY SALVES FAIL

TO CURE ECZEMA

Scientists are now agreed that the eczema germs are lodged not in the outer skin or epidermis, but in the inner skin. Hence a penetrating liquid is required, not an outward salve that clogs the pores.

We recommend to all eczema patients the standard prescription Oil of Wintergreen as compounded in liquid form known as D. D. D. Prescription. A trial bottle of this D. D. D. Prescription, at only 25 cents, will instantly relieve the itch. We have sold and recommended this remedy for years, and know of wonderful cures from its use. We recommend it to our patrons.

REV. O'BOYLAN OFFENDED AT HYPERBOLE

Father B. M. O'Boyle takes offense at the items that have been published in another paper in this city and in the Ohio State Journal, regarding his narrow escape from death by nearly being struck by an auto driven by Dr. W. H. Gardner. Father O'Boyle says that while he did get close to the passing auto, he never paid any attention to it, and never more about it until his attorney was called to the item. He says that the report in the State Journal is incorrect. He also says his age is about 60 years. He wishes it understood that, while he has the greatest respect for age, he is not 60 years old by any means. He says he was probably the most surprised man in the city when he passed up the "wipers" and rear of the narrow escape from death.

REFUTES STORIES

After the return of mail-order men to Newark, Post Master John W. Zuber, the postmaster of the state, received a telegram of these officials to the effect that when they should be unable to come forward and make arrangements, or undergo such a procedure, the state for a time would be closed.

While there is no definite idea as to the total amount it is estimated that it will run to the thousands.

It is the belief of the officials that may have a bearing on the suits brought by the former state treasurer in collateral case in which Reorderer Willis F. Pierson has been indicted for receiving interest on county funds.

Mrs. Pierson's attorneys claim that there is no statute under which their client could be found guilty of embezzlement, as charged.

Should the court find for the defendant the county will immediately appeal to the Supreme court, so as to find for the county the trial will be proceeded, and if Mrs. Pierson is found guilty her attorneys will call an appeal to the higher court. It is to be seen every probability, however, that the question will be final, as it is before very long.

Senator Beatty will introduce a bill next week making it mandatory that all supplies for the use of benevolent, penal, reformatory and correctional institutions of the state, state departments, parishes and commissions, and county offices and institutions shall be bought on competitive bidding. Any official violating the provision of the act is subject to a fine and imprisonment and shall forfeit his office.

WAR ON HIGH PRICES HAS REACHED CITY

The war on high prices has reached Newark. Petitions were circulated among the men employed on the night shift at the American Bottle plant which were signed, it is said by nearly every one of the more than four hundred employees, who pledged themselves to abstain from eating meat or eggs for thirty days. It is also reported that petitions will be circulated among the men employed on the day shift.

MAKE PERSIAN RUGS IN NEWARK STORE

Native Importer Will Set Up Loom in Meyer & Lindorf's Store Window—Starting Tomorrow, Display of Oriental Floor Covering is to Be Made.

Representing a New York and Constantinople firm who are large dealers in Persian rugs, Mr. A. A. Slevman, a member of the firm, and Syrian himself, starting tomorrow, is to make a very elaborate display of handsome Oriental floor coverings in the store of Meyer & Lindorf. The display is to attract wide attention. Mr. Slevman will soon have on a Persian who will set up his loom in the store window of Meyer & Lindorf and make the rugs in full view. The work is very slow and it is said that a workman will not average more than a square inch a day or the next month. There are a number of pieces in the Oriental rugs, the finest being known as Kasian, Saruk, Kerman, Tabriz and Senja. These will average from three to four hundred dollars to the square inch. No two pieces are alike and the maker designs his rug as he goes along, receiving from 8 to 12 cents per day.

On Wednesday the Board decided to employ him.

Witness said the State Board declined to the Newark Board the contract for a system and stated that the intent would be Cheever Burress was employed to draw plans and specifications and received $100. He was to get $15 a day and expenses six times as he was needed in Newark.

The plans of the infiltration system were then brought into court and explained to Mr. Beck by Mr. Taylor, who went into details.

The plant was estimated at $11,000 for cisterns, pipe and all labor and material. The bid was $16,301.01. All the different bids were read for com-

Co. laid over 66,000 linear foot of pipe.

Engineer Wells will provide a statement showing the extras in 6 and 16-inch pipe. He said the extra in some instances was caused by the Riggs & Sherman plans not scaling properly.

In referring to a question of several days ago, Mr. Taylor withdrew his former answer and said that at the first letting Brooks and Bonnell argued in favor of Stone being awarded the contract instead of against it as formerly stated.

Asking if any people were present at the rejection of the first bids, except the Board and the bidders, Mr. Taylor said Mr. Hale of the Advocate was present as a reporter, and Mr. J. H. Newton of the same paper were present. Both gentlemen made remarks showing them to be opposed to the letting. A reporter was also present from the American Tribune. Quite a crowd was present, witness said.

He was asked if Mr. Newton was a frequent visitor at the office of the Board from 1906. Mr. Taylor said he was not there at different times. Asked if Mr. Newton ever proffered advice to the Board, Mr. Taylor said he did not.

Mr. Taylor said he did not consult Mr. Newton in regard to important matters and that the Board conducted their own affairs.

The question that was passed last night relative to ordering pipe and splitting orders to avoid bids and to evade the law, was looked up and Taylor said he had looked the matter over and gave amounts of pipe ordered at different times.

At the close of last night's session the matter came up that extra pipe was laid by the Board to give the unemployed work and Taylor said the Board was authorized to do the work by council, who voted in informal manner. Taylor said the resolution was not a written one, but it was voted on verbally.

The matter came up, as many men were out of work and this was the city's way of providing work.

Mr. Taylor didn't remember whether he suggested the plan to council, or whether they took the matter up first.

Asked what the board did in complying with the matter, Taylor said several short streets were piped and house connections were made in streets that were to be paved during the summer. The streets were North Fourth, south Fine, line to Howell Provision Co., on Wilson street. South Pine street contract is let for paving, but it has not been paved yet, but the pipe is now in.

The detailed cost for the pipe laying done by the Board on the different streets was then given, including labor, lead, jute, setting hydrants, etc. This was taken in detail by Stenographer Firman and will go in the records. The cost to the Board per linear foot was .17 7-10 for the work.

It was shown that the work the Board did was at a much less cost than similar work had been done by the contractors.

Asked why the hauling of pipe was itemized in these cases, Mr. Taylor said it was because the Board wanted to know exactly what the work was costing.

Further questioning was along the ground of how much pipe was used on North Fourth street and the cost of hauling the 6 and 16-inch pipe to various pipe laying job. From the questioning it seems that more was laid for the laying of the 6-inch pipe than for the 16-inch. A mistake seems to have been made in payment for the hauling and this was threshed out through bills and vouchers, but this item was settled in a satisfactory manner.
